Walker Heads Clearing House For Applications For Works Funds

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Establishment of three new government agencies, one of them under Professor Rexford G. Tugwell, Under-Secretary of Agriculture, to assist in handling the $4,000,000,000 administration public works program was announced by President Roosevelt today.

Tugwell will have charge of a new division directing rural resettlement, although he will remain in his present agricultural post.

The rural resettlement division will consolidate a number of other agencies now conducting this work which have been scattered under the AAA, the FERA, and subordinate homestead divisions. President Roosevelt stated that only a very small allotment would be made for this work, and has not yet decided how much.

Professor Tugwell's new job does not require confirmation by congress.

Other Divisions
The other new divisions to be added include:

1. A new division of rural electrical work.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Report is made to Pa New that five deer were seen in a group rambling about the Albert Resher farm, near Brent, in the past few days.

From the number of baseball and football teams that are in the process of organization in New Castle and Lawrence county at the present time, these sports are in for the greatest season in all local history.

Pa New marvels at the way the ancient covered bridge across the Mahoning river at Edensburg stands up under present day traffic.

Spring football season will get away to a fine start here on Friday night, when New Castle high plays Aliquippa high in the first of a series of three games under the floodlights this season. Two other teams will be played on succeeding Fridays.

There was a big migration of college students out of the city today as they returned to their classes in numerous institutions after the spring vacation.

Fish wardens are checking up closely on the fishermen along streams in this vicinity at the present time, Pa New is informed.

The warm sun of the last few days has hatched out the butterflies, Pa New observes, a large yellow one being noted flying about on South street this morning.

Farmers are working hard these days, getting their ground prepared for the spring plowing, it is noted. With the dust storms and drought in the west, farming in the local district should be more profitable this year.

CONFERENCES HELD BEFORE STATE MAN

Commissioner S. Ray Shelby Seeks Compromise On New Castle Case

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 24.—Conferences looking to a compromise on figures involved in the rate battle between the City of New Castle and the Pennsylvania Power Company over the latter's schedule of rates were held by opposing attorneys here today.

The case, arising out of the city's allegation that the company's schedule is "discriminatory and unreasonable," was originally set for hearing before Commissioner S. Ray Shelby of the Public Service Commission. At the suggestion of Shelby that time might be saved in settling the matter through agreement of counsel, no witnesses were called and the hearing resolved into a conference.

Separate Hearing Needed

Three cases of discrimination were alleged by the city, but one—that regarding terms of the municipal contract—was excluded by Shelby, who pointed out it was a contract, not a rate case, and that a separate hearing on this matter was necessary. The other two cases, relative to terms of the company's rate schedule and domestic and commercial rates, were considered.

Robert White, city solicitor and members of council, appeared for the city, while the Power company was represented by Homer Swaney, Beaver Falls. L. B. Round, New Castle, vice president and general manager of the company, was also present.

The conference was agreed upon after the hearing opened. Shelby, pointing out the parties had already agreed on "two-thirds of the problem"—the figures on operating costs and valuation—only one matter of dispute, that of taxes, remained to be settled. At his suggestion, counsel agreed to talk the matter over and no witnesses were summoned.

"If two-thirds of this case can be (Continued On Page Two)

Vanguard Of Alaska Empire Builders Leave

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—The Vanguard of a new type of American pioneers was enroute today to a wooded valley in Alaska, to open a new chapter in Empire building. One hundred and twenty men—the "shock troops" of the Fera's Alaskan experiment, steamed out the golden gate today aboard the U. S. M. S. North Star, to begin the work of building a new community in Mantanuska Valley, 125 miles from Seward, Alaska.

Within a month they will be followed by 200 families, hardy men, women and children drawn from the drought-stricken farmlands of the north west, to whom the Alaskan Valley will be a promised land where they may carve their homes anew. The men enroute today are the first section of the "work division"—300 more men to follow them on May 1—charged with the task of clearing the ground, erecting log cabins, building water systems and preparing the rugged land for the colonizing families.

Ordering full speed ahead in an effort to make up for time lost in lengthy discussions over the controversial tax program, Speaker Wilson G. Sarig helped the members hasten through their calendar. Speedy roll calls on measures agreed upon by all factions sent a flood of bills to the senate for concurrence.

Among the many bills passed without debate was the Hoopes bill providing for permanent registration of voters in third class cities. The senate has already passed a similar measure. Another was the Baine bill suspending sales of goods and chattels for collection of local taxes.

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., April 24.—Here is the latest racket, if you are so rich you don't know what to do with your money. Americans are putting it in annuities in England, they feel it's safer there.

Parents Of Sweetheart Accused Of Complicity In Snyder County Crime

MARGIOTTI ORDERS TRIAL OF PARENTS

(International News Service)—HARRISBURG, April 24.—Sherman L. Strawser, farmhand today as assured a respite delaying his execution from next Monday night until July 8 in order that his sweetheart's parents may be tried for complicity in the robbery and slaying of Charles Gable, his former employer, for which he was sentenced to the electric chair.

Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti ordered that Lester Gill and his wife, parents of Zella, 16, whom the doomed man had intended to marry, be formally charged with murder after a second hearing by the pardon board of Strawser's plea for clemency. In an affidavit Strawser charged Gill and his wife suggested Gable be attacked and robbed in order that he could obtain money to marry Zella or face prosecution on morality charges.

Criticizes District Attorney

Vigorously criticized by the attorney general for his conduct of the case, District Attorney Henry J. Commers, Jr., of Snyder county, agreed to Margiotti's suggestion to petition the court for the appointment of a special prosecutor. Margiotti announced the board would recommend Gov. George H. Earle issue a respite to permit Strawser to testify.

"I don't believe you're going to get justice in this case now no matter what happens and you're responsible to a large degree," Margiotti told Sommers. He was particularly assailed for calling the Gill family as witnesses in their own defense at two hearings before justices of the peace, a privilege the attorney general said, they were not entitled to under Pennsylvania law.

bury has attended since last summer when he underwent an operation from which he has since been convalescing.

Comes As Surprise

His resignation came as a surprise as his associates had been expecting him to resume his duties as president shortly. In announcing his resignation, he told the board that the company has been by Clement that he would not stand for re-election for the few months remaining before his retirement.

Atterbury had been devoted to railroad transportation through-out his long career. From a three-dollar-a-week machine shop apprentice at the age of 20, his diligence and capacity to absorb instructions carried him to world-wide recognition as a leader in the industry.

In his long career as head of the world's largest transportation system, Atterbury esteemed no human friendship. To tycoon and lowly section hand who "led him" "friend," Atterbury was always "W. W."

Tribute To Clement.

"Mr. Clement," said General Atterbury, "is unquestionably the ablest railroad executive in the country. He had been acting as president of the Pennsylvania railroad since last July. Since October, 1933, when he became vice president after seven years as vice president in charge of operations, he has been intimately associated with me in conducting the company's affairs and in our relations with other railroads and with the government."

"The remarkable results achieved by the company last year, one of the most difficult periods the railroad has ever experienced, were largely due to Mr. Clement's leadership."

Clement, who will not be 54 until next December, is one of the youngest presidents the Pennsylvania railroad has ever had. He was born at Sunbury, Pa., on December 5, 1881, and was educated at Trinity college, Hartford, Conn., and entered the railroad's service on August 1, 1901, as a rodman.

On the first of January, 1910, he was promoted to supervisor in the Philadelphia office and transferred to the Manhattan division in June, 1913, and to the Pittsburgh division in December, 1913, to act in the same capacity.

Fee System In Tax Collecting Is Held Racket

Head Of Taxpayers' Forum Says Delinquent Tax Collectors Reaping Harvest

(International News Service)—PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—The depression has revolved itself into a veritable gold mine for Pennsylvania's delinquent tax collectors, one of whom collected nearly $150,000 in fees during one year, according to H. Ennis Jones, executive director of the Taxpayers' Forum.

Jones charged the huge income on delinquent taxes was gathered by the collector of Allegheny county in 1931. The fees, he said, amounted to $149,331.62 for that year and totaled $487,104.96 during his four-year term.

"The fee system of collecting taxes in this state has developed into a racket," Jones charged, "citing another instance where a collector 'received' $45,000 yearly for simply receiving three checks and depositing them in the bank."

It costs Pennsylvania $3,000,000 now to collect its taxes, Jones asserted. If the forum's centralized collection plan was adopted, he said, the cost could be reduced to $600,000.

tion on taxes would be forthcoming before the Senate adjourns for the week.

"I believe we'll have a statement to make before the day is over," he said. It was understood the statement would be released simultaneously with its presentation to Governor Earle.

Indications were the finance committee conference would recommend the Senate "stand pat" on its $37,000,000 recommendation for relief, with the total broken down to permit expenditures of $38,000,000 during the first year of the biennium and $19,000,000 the second year.

What reply Republicans would make to the administration's contention the alternate program would not raise revenue quickly enough to meet the needs was uncertain.

The Republican substitute program called for $111,500,000 in new taxes, as compared with $203,000,000 recommended by the administration. At the first compromise conference the executive asserted the G. O. P. budget outline would bring in only $31,000,000 in new revenue the first year, while more than $100,000,000 would be needed.

Would Cut Costs

The suggestion to make an uneven division of relief expenditures would carry out the Republican insistence that relief costs be pared down gradually during the next two years through local administration. The Senate already has passed the Batchelor bill returning relief to local poor boards and reconsideration was anticipated of the vote by which it defeated the Woodward bill creating local relief boards. With the G. O. P. lines badly split, the Woodward bill went down to defeat when it was returned to the floor without any of the numerous amendments offered by Democrats.

Once caucus approval was obtained to any changes in the Senate majority tax plan, Floor Leader Clarence J. Buckman, Bucks, was to report to Governor Earle. The executive was expected to take time to consider the revised outline before calling another formal compromise conference with legislative leaders.

No Recovery Plan

Senator Frank J. Harris, Allegheny, speaking over a state-wide hookup, asserted the question at issue was whether "sound judgment" would prevail. Pointing out that both the administration and the Republican substitute tax programs are "in accord in nearly every respect," Harris said:

"This is a question of whether a Republican or a Democratic program shall prevail. Our problem is demand honesty and sound judgment if they are to be solved. Senator George Reed, Dauphin, struck out at the Earle administration with the charge that it is sponsoring a legislative program containing 'not one word, not even a single gesture' designed to promote business and industrial recovery in Pennsylvania. He subordinated tax matters to accuse the administration of seeking to impose costly and unworkable restrictions and raise the cost of business and industrial operation beyond the hope of successful competition with similar activities in other states."

fication, which will not be under any regular department but will operate as a separate agency. President Roosevelt said he has no one in mind as yet to head this division but it was indicated that he expected to name a new official for the post.

2. Grade crossing elimination. This division will be added to the bureau of highways in the department of agriculture. No director has been selected for this work.

Mr. Roosevelt said that the remainder of the public works program will be administered largely through fifty or sixty existing government agencies.

Added personnel will be required by these departments, but this force will be considered as a part of the public works relief expenditure.

Projects Classified

The bulk of the projects have been classified under eight general headings, as follows:

Grade crossings eliminations, rural resettlement, rural electrification, housing, white collar employment, CCC, loans and grants for municipal projects, and sanitation.

Soil erosion, President Roosevelt explained, will fall under various of these general divisions. Special activities of slum clearance, public works, and other regular activities of Secretary of Interior Harold I. Ickes, will remain unchanged, and the federal housing administration now headed by James A. Moffett will remain, it was stated.

Harry L. Hopkins will continue in charge of FERA, although it was expected that with the inauguration of the new program, direct relief would be diminished.

Walker In Charge

Washington, April 24.—Establishment of a clearing house for all applications for public works allotments from the $4,880,000,000 fund to be headed by Frank G. Walker, of Montana, former executive director of the national emergency council, was ordered by President Roosevelt today.

Walker immediately assumed his duties and began setting up the unit to be known as the division of applications and information. It will be an additional group in the national emergency council.

All applicants for advances from the fund will be steered through this section first. The applications will then be passed to a works allotment board, to be announced shortly. This board will determine the funds necessary and other details.

The plan is to create a central agency where all applications can be sorted, checked for engineering data, and other information to facilitate their passage.

settled by agreement. I don't see why the remaining one-third can't be settled the same way," Shelby said.

Have Made Concessions

"Because we have already made every concession we could," replied White.

After some discussion, it was agreed that the issue of taxes would be left until the time when they are ready to be levied, and the effort to achieve a compromise on the figures already submitted was begun. These figures were arrived at during conferences between representatives of the city and the company last December after an inventory and appraisal of the company facilities was made.

Pointing out that the company has reduced its rates for six consecutive years, Round said that savings under the new schedule would amount to about $140,000 for all classes of patrons. White, admitting a reduction was provided under the schedule, nevertheless asserted the "new rates actually raise some classes of patrons, notably the minimum-user group."

Conferences were to be resumed this afternoon.

Find Unconscious Man Along Roadway

Tells Strange Tale When Admitted To Hospital Here Last Evening

Found unconscious along the Ellwood City road, near Energy, at 6 o'clock last evening, Frank Crowley, aged 55, who gave his address as 11th street, Youngstown, told a strange story when admitted to the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Crowley's plight was discovered by L. M. Shields, superintendent of right of way, of the Pennsylvania Power Company. He turned Crowley over to W. E. Kerr, of 310 W. Madison avenue, Youngstown, who brought him into the office of the State Highway patrol, who ordered the man removed to the hospital.

Crowley told hospital officials that he is a deep sea diver, and was on his way to his home in Youngstown in company with two other Youngstown men, after having been employed at the Columbia River dam. Feeling ill as they neared Energy, he asked to be let out so he could go to the office of a doctor near this point. His companions proceeded on their way. He said he became ill and remembered nothing more after they left him out of the car.

Efforts of hospital attaches to communicate with the address given by Crowley in Youngstown, were in vain. His condition today was said to be much improved.

Will Be Fitted With New Uniforms Which Have Arrived In City

Members of the Junior band, sponsored by the Perry S. Gaston post, American legion, will meet on Thursday evening, when they will try on the new uniforms recently ordered, so that they can be fitted for each individual.

The uniforms are blue and gold, and the band will make a snappy appearance when they are all equipped.

The band has been making splendid progress under the direction of Legionnaires Joseph F. Replogle, director, and Lester McClelland, drill master.

The first appearance of the band in their new uniforms will be at the national commander's banquet of the American legion, on May 9.

ATTRACTIVE HOME WEDDING TUESDAY

A very attractive wedding took place at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, April 23, at the home of Mrs. Reed E. Smith, 1302 Highland avenue, when her sister, Sarah Helen Bates, was united in marriage to Wallace L. Randall, of Liberty, N. Y.

To the strains of the wedding march played by David Hopkins, harpist, the bride party entered and took their places beneath a beautiful floral arch of roses and ferns which was arranged between the living and dining rooms. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ernest C. Potter, of Kalamazoo, N. Y., former pastor of the Mansfield Presbyterian church, and close friend of the family. Miss Bates was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Sarah Bates.

The bride was gowned in light blue organza, with a pattern in blue outlined with beautiful hand-made flowers. It was designed long, had short sleeves and a brief cape of tulle. With it she wore a large wide brimmed hat and blue accessories. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley with ribbon streamers. Her only ornament was a diamond brooch, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. Reed Smith was her sister's matron of honor, wearing a long modish, yellow chiffon gown and a yellow picture hat. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. Reed Smith was best man. Mrs. Bates was lovely in blue chiffon and a large brimmed navy blue hat with chiffon trim of flowers, the shade of her gown. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

The wedding breakfast was served at The Castleton immediately after the ceremony. Perfect appointments were developed in a white throughout, the centerpiece being a tiered wedding cake, elaborately decorated. Covers were laid for 40 guests.

Later, the young couple left for a motor trip through the southern states, and upon their return, they will be at home in Liberty, N. Y. Departing, the bride and groom carried with them the best wishes of their many friends which were expressed in beautiful gifts for their wedding. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Randall, the groom's parents, Miss Almeda Randall, sister of the groom of Liberty, N. Y., and W. A. Bates, of Mansfield, Pa., an uncle of the bride.

The new Mrs. Randall is a graduate of the Mansfield Teachers' college, with a B. S. degree. She has been popular and successful as music supervisor in the schools of Liberty, N. Y., for six years. The groom attended the School of Forestry in Ohio, and is now connected with the firm of Randall and Son, Decorators, in Liberty, N. Y.

BERTHA GIRLS PRESENT CHILDREN'S PLAYLET

Bertha Girls presented Allen-Whieldon Kindergarten in "Snow White and Dwarfs" Tuesday afternoon, in the First Methodist church providing an entertainment of rare enjoyment for nearly 200 people.

The playlet, adapted from the popular children's book, was rearranged by Mrs. Margaret Ramsey Whieldon and Mrs. Kathryn Nessle Allen, and their untiring efforts in training some 25 little tots during the past several weeks for the production were well repaid in its successful presentation.

Opening the program was a group of three numbers by the rhythm band with Jimmy Cox director, a five year old. Play action takes place through five scenes, depicting the story of a wicked Queen who is jealous of the beauty of her stepdaughter. In the last act the Prince rescues the beautiful Snow White and marries her, the story ending as usual, most happily.

The kiddies were all gowned fashionably as groupings. Snow White, who was portrayed by Mary Whieldon, wearing a princess dress, and with her long golden curls she was a pretty picture. Joanne Dart, as the wicked Queen, made her appearance in a long, lace evening gown, open to the waist in the back, and in another scene she was dressed in a long red velvet, trimmed with crystal beads. Bruce Brown was the Prince and Jimmy Carson was the Mirror who gave a resume of the story previously.

The ladies in waiting, Janet Everett, Joanne Travers, Mary Eggleston, Sally Boyd, and Nonna Gillespie, all wore attractive miniature evening gowns, depicting themselves accordingly. The boys taking the part of soldiers, comprising the Queen's body guard, were "ducky" in swallow tail coats and highly creased trousers. These parts were taken by Dickie Pitzer, Jackie Elsworth, Johnny Brindle, Jay Lewis, Bruce Brown, Dwarfs, in brown tight fitting suits with high peaked caps, were Jimmy Cox, Allen Ingals, Freddy Steinbrink, Offutt Eberstadt, Lee McCombs, Bobby Woodring, Arnold Lewis. Children parts were taken by Jimmy Whieldon, Donna Allen, Caroline Anderson, Bobby Thomas.

The various scenes showed the Queen's Palace, the Forest and the Dwarf's Hut. Snappy little songs added to the pleasure of the program at intervals, the concluding number "Good Bye" being sung by the chorus.

Much praise was heard for the very efficient committee of the Bertha Girls who were in charge, these including: Reception, Mrs. William Ray, president; Mrs. J. K. Heess; table and decorations, Mrs. D. N. Ballard, Mrs. William Ray, Mrs. Donald McCall, Mrs. Harry Hitchings, Mrs. E. G. THE ARMY FINDS FOOD COSTS SOARING

AN object lesson on the effects of the soaring prices of food is given in the complaints of United States army officers. Some time ago five cents a day was added to the ration allowance of each private in the army to cover expected increases in the cost of living. But despite careful buying in large quantities the cost has already risen eighteen cents a day per man. That it will go still higher is not to be doubted. Even if it should remain at the existing level it is estimated it will cost $5,000,000 more to feed the army during the next fiscal year than has been appropriated.

It is not likely that congress will permit the armed forces of the nation to starve. A way will be found to pay for the food required by the sailors and soldiers and the men of the Civilian Conservation Corps, but what of the army of taxpayers who are trying to make ends meet on limited incomes? Is congress going to look out for their interests?

This is a question that comes directly home to the families of the country. None feels it more acutely than the housewives who are compelled to provide for the table on greatly reduced allowances.

'T WAS A GRUESOME SHOW

That public hanging in Kentucky, during which the victim was permitted to harangue his large and appreciative audience for almost an hour, was a travesty on dignified justice. It made a show of the taking of a man's life, and the theatrical aspect was not lost to at least one eyewitness, a woman, who said afterwards that she would not mind witnessing another hanging. Evidently she had a good time.

There is something wrong with a system that allows a condemned person to engage in lively repartee with the person who made the charge that sent him to death. The taking of human life, for any cause, is a serious thing and should not be made a public spectacle where crowds may gloat over the predicament of the condemned. In the Kentucky instance the man who was hanged in the name of justice exhibited more common sense than many of the throng who attended the ceremony when he told women and young girls, and he might have included a majority of the men, that they should not be there. The occurrence was not to the credit of the state of Kentucky.

STRATOSPHERIC TROUBLES

Wiley Post certainly has had bad luck with his stratosphere flights. He has failed three times to make a time record across the continent by using the thin upper air. First he had emery dust in his motor bearings. Then his oxygen supply failed. The last time, on April 14, it was a defective supercharger.

Wiley and his wonderful little plane, the Winnie Mae, will probably succeed yet in this pioneering effort. But these foiled flights have not been real failures at all. They have shown emphatically what a pilot is up against in such high altitudes and what perfection of motor, accessory parts and breathing equipment are necessary for such flying.

It is a far more difficult game than navigating the lower air levels. Super-flying requires super-outfitting. It is well not to accomplish it too suddenly, less inadequate knowledge, preparation and equipment should bring tragic disaster.

A VANISHING ARMY

In the 70 years succeeding the surrender of Lee at Appomattox, April 9, 1865, the ranks of the Union Army have dwindled from about a million and three-quarters of survivors at that time to approximately 14,000 as measured by the pension rolls. At the beginning of this year there were 15,211 Civil War veterans on these rolls, and they have been passing away at the rate of four or five hundred a month.

Civil War pensions still cost the government about five millions a month, because of the extension of their benefits to more than a hundred thousand of veterans' dependents. If Uncle Sam were ultimately to apply to World War veterans the same pension policy with which the men of the Grand Army have been rewarded the outlay in the late 1930s would still be running, by analogy, at around a quarter of a billion dollars a year, enrollment in the World War having been twice as great as in the Civil War.

The passing of the veterans is a sad reminder of those great and vociferous gatherings of the Grand Army of the Republic that most of the middle-aged can remember. Yet the remarkable thing is not so much that the line should now be thin, as that, in view of the hardships of the soldiers' life, so many thousands should still live to fight over again in memory battles decided a long lifetime ago.

APPRECIATION OF NATURE

It was only a few years ago that the people of the United States were living in close, everyday communion with the birds, wild flowers and other wild life. That was before Americans became predominantly city dwellers and before the little wild things had been crowded into a few isolated corners of the country, if not exterminated or nearly so.

But with the massing of a large proportion of the population in cities and towns has come a keener appreciation of the simple joys of nature, of which so many have been deprived by conditions of modern life.

Humanity long believed all birds were parasites and of no good to man until many of the most valuable winged creatures were extinct. Where there were once laws forbidding farmers to kill a certain number of birds a year and offering bounties for all birds slaughtered, there are today laws prohibiting the killing of many different kinds of birds.

There was a time when the United States was a veritable fairyland of wild flowers, but today so destructive has been the progress of commerce and agriculture and so zealous have been the vandals that state legislatures have found it expedient to forbid the picking of wildflowers along public highways and to outlaw the taking of plants, their leaves or blossoms, whether cultivated or in the wild state, from private or public lands.

So intensely interested in nature are the multitudes today that they annually buy millions of books and crowd natural history museums and zoological gardens to read about and see the very flowers they are crushing under foot and animals they were wantonly slaughtering but a brief span of years back.

WHY DO WOMEN GROW UP?

TROUBLE IS, women insist on growing up.

Not all of them, to be sure. . . . But too many of them, for masculine comfort and ease and equality.

Little girls are older than little boys of the same age. Maidens are older than youths. Women are older than men, wives than husbands, daughters than their fathers. It's most annoying for my sex—and sometimes it is very irritating for the sex that grows older.

Men may LOOK as if they were as old as the women. They pretend that they are. They grow beards and hold down jobs solemnly and talk earnestly about their "work" "achievements" and without meaning it they say that their success is the fault of some woman. They run for office and take out insurance policies and "put over deals" and get on their dignity and "safeguard the future" and talk magnificently about posterity and they erect a magnificent facade of maturity and sound judgment.

But it's all a fake. I'm sure of that. . . . Men slip back to childhood at the least excuse. They go crazy about such things as football . . . or golf . . . or bridge . . . or even business. Even business they treat as if it were a game, not exclusively as a way of earning a living. . . . They're funny creatures, and they don't grow up. Not all the way. Not through and through.

But the majority of women do. Even the youngest woman feels immensely older than the oldest man. She may admire his abilities, she may respect his strength, but she is convinced that, after all, he isn't a child. She's grown up and he isn't.

It's annoying to the men. They fool other men and they don't see why they can't fool the women. It's upsetting to a man who has lived along for 40 or 50 years and piled up a considerable reputation for solidity and then suddenly discovers that the woman who knows him best still considers him a child. And can prove it to him if he wants to argue about it.

It's not right. It's taking an unfair advantage. But the men will never change. Because in their hearts they know life is more exciting if a PART of you never grows up. More painful at times, but also more FUN.

HONORARY POSITIONS DEMAND HONORABLE CONDUCT

You may have been honored through election to some high office in your church, club or other organization.

When you were chosen, it was expected that you would conduct yourself in a manner befitting the office. You may not have been in the habit of doing anything so very wrong—certainly, nothing of an unlawful nature—before your election. But you have indulged in forms of pleasure and recreation which you now feel that you should follow no more.

You have a sense of the degree of dignity and faultless conduct that is supposed to go with the office you hold.

The old habits and pleasures which you followed before your election should now be discarded if you are to be a true representative of the office you hold.

If you were unwilling to abstain from things which might bring unfavorable reflections upon you and the organization which you represent, it was very unwise of you to accept the office.

Nearly every honorable position demands certain restrictions.

You cannot afford to risk adverse comment.

If you were in the general ranks it might not matter, but now, be careful.

THE GARDENER'S TASK

In March I cut the roses back Which took me years to learn I'd not in me the will to be So ruthless and so stern And loving all the growing ones I left them standing tall. Unwise was I, for June went by With scarce a rose at all.

I loved not wisely but too well. On many a stem I smiled. To pruning loath I watched the growth Of thorny shoots and wild. I thought it tenderness to let The seven-leaved branches stay And didn't know when wild stalks grow They must be cut away.

Last March I cut the roses back And bade them start anew. With knife severe I stripped them clear Of every growth untrue. Now every branch a promise bears Of roses soon to be And strives to tell in buds that swell Its gratitude to me.

Pennsylvania Leads In Roads

Built More Highways Than Any Other State In The Union Last Year

WISCONSIN HAS SECOND MILEAGE

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 24—Pennsylvania led all states in highway construction during 1934, J. E. Pennybacker, managing director of the Asphalt Institute, reported today.

An analysis by Mr. Pennybacker showed that the Keystone State's 3,505 completed miles were all modern improved types except 30 miles graded and one mile of untreated macadam. Asphalt type highways built totaled 3,253 miles, and concrete type aggregated 220 miles.

Wisconsin came second of the states in a mileage completed last year, followed by Indiana, Tennessee and California.

"Fashions in highways change just as they do in everything else," commented Mr. Pennybacker. "A strong reason for the current swing toward black as the prevailing highway color is the fact that road builders are seeking to make the highway dollar buy more pavement than it did in the lavish days of the late twenties when boulevards were built where prairie dogs and the chipmunks were their principal patrons."

"Out of the total 39,302 miles of road which were finished throughout the country on state highway systems last year, 18,164 were asphalt surfaced and treated, and 3,714 miles were of Portland cement concrete. The rest were graded and drained, gravelled, or made of brick and block. Some 7,525 miles of low cost bituminous mix, exceeding all other modern surfaces combined, were laid in 1934 and provided the feature of the year's work."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning 'Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It would pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in pimples. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

"Trap"

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 24.—Sobbing hysterically, wiping away tears which streamed down her face, a pretty young divorcee, Marian Nardo today on the witness stand described events which led up to the murder of William Cavin, for which her father, John, is on trial.

Nardo, 38, is accused of having killed Cavin by means of a "death trap" which he rigged up in a barn on his Edgeworth farm.

"William Cavin brought me into Pittsburgh in his car," said the young woman. "He rented a car. He piled me with liquor. That night—well, when I woke up he was gone and all my clothes were gone, too."

A woman member of the jury sobbed audibly and the judge gave her a nod.

Stories Circulated
Miss Nardo said she had left home because her father had told her "stories" were being circulated about her. She met Cavin, she claimed, and the affair in the room followed.

Cross-examined, the young woman admitted she had written letters to Cavin and in one had asked him for money. She said she had first met Cavin ten years ago when she was 17.

Her brother, Daniel, was also called as a witness and testified that November 2, as he was preparing to leave his home six weeks before the murder, he and his mother and father by an unidentified man standing across the street.

He testified the man "looked like Cavin."

$10,000 Bail

(International News Service)
LANCASTER, Pa., April 24.—Unshaken by the identification of bones found at his home as those of the missing Gladys Lawson, 26, Calvert, Md., Dr. H. C. Zimmerly, Mechanics Grove, today looked to friends to raise $10,000 bail and effect his freedom pending trial on two charges of performing illegal operations and four counts of violating the narcotic laws.

State police disclosed that additional bones and an acid-eaten rusty nail were uncovered at Dr. Zimmerly's home shortly after District Attorney Paul A. Mueller announced that an anatomist's report on bits of bones found in ashes and refuse confirmed the contention of investigators that the physician disposed of Mrs. Lawson's body after an illegal operation.

Dr. Zimmerly, defiant since his arrest, had no comment to make to his attorney, B. F. Davis, when advised that the police had claimed solution of Mrs. Lawson's disappearance on the basis of the anatomical report made by Dr. J. W. Rice, of Bucknell University.

No Agreement On Milk Control

Renewed Efforts Made For Acceptable Milk Control Legislation

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 24.—Renewed efforts to bring about agreement of milk control legislation were made today after 36 hours of intermittent conferences left the deadlock over regulation of dairy co-operatives unshaken.

Belief was growing as the senate agriculture committee met again that no bill will reach Gov. George H. Earle's desk before existing legislation expires next Tuesday.

The committee meeting was the fifth since milk legislation stepped into the crisis role in legislative halls Monday night. Meetings between a sub-committee and dairy interests have been held steadily during the interim between committee gatherings.

Predictions were freely made that the Smith administration milk control bill could be gotten out onto the senate floor before the week-end recess today. As a result of the lengthy conferences, however, it was considered certain the measure would carry amendments which require house concurrence and probably throw the bill into conference committee. If it goes to conference committee, there was little possibility of legislation being adopted in time to prevent automatic demise of the 1933 act.

Amendments under consideration, it was learned, provide for removing the clause requiring gubernatorial approval of all price-fixing orders and other newly inserted provisions. The license fee scale may also be altered. The principal debate, however, continued to revolve around inclusion of authority to regulate prices paid producers by co-operatives which is now written into the Smith bill.

Rank And File Delegation Out

Barred From Amalgamated Association Meetings By Court Order

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 24—A "strategy board" of "rank and file" factionists of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel & Tin Workers went into a huddle in a separate hall here today to plan future operations after they had been barred by court order from attending the 60th annual convention of the association.

Leaders of the "rank and file"
said they hoped to reach a decision
some time today on what they planned to do. The "strategy board" included Attorney Aaron Sapiro, Clarence Irwin of Youngstown, O.,
Alexander Schullman of Pittsburgh.

The big steel convention was guarded by mounted police and special detectives who made sure the insurgents could not enter.

What took place at the meeting was something of a mystery. President Michael F. Tighe, 76-year-old head of the Amalgamated, declared that the meeting was "most successful". He said further sessions may last several weeks.

Elated over the court's refusal to grant an injunction to the insurgent element, Tighe said:

"This so-called 'rank and file'
bunch is dominated by the communist party."

The international president regarded the appearance of James Wilson, former president of the International Pattern Makers' association, as further proof that his conservative policies are looked upon with favor by the American Federation of Labor. Wilson said he attended the convention as a personal representative of William Green, president of the A. F. of L.

According to Tighe, Wilson gave
"a general talk on labor principles"
to the seated delegates.

James Fox Has Leading Role In Senior Play

June Graduating Class Of High School To Present
"Growing Up"

James Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs.
George C. Fox of Edgewood avenue, has been chosen for the leading role in the coming play of the June graduating class at the Senior high school. The play is a modern comedy of the small tragedies and excited joys of an engaging group
of young people
of the high school age. Aurora Ronver's
"Growing Up"
is like the radio
hour of the Youth Movement on Sunday afternoon;
it is "for young people and friends of young people everywhere".

James Fox

James Fox interprets the part of the young man of the family, around whom the action centers. As George McIntyre he blooms
on the stage the interesting product of these recent theories of self-expression and self-determination in the rearing of children. Certainly as the startling events befalling the MacIntyre family begin to unroll, self-expression in youth appears to guarantee a not uneventful life to the parents concerned. George's escapades will have a familiar flavor for those who have lived through or watched over lovable but exasperating boys at the "awkward age".

Better known in high school by his nickname of "Paderewski", James Fox is usually numbered among the outstanding musicians of his generation of Ne-Ca-Hi rather than among Miss Hartsuff's dramatic lights. As a pianist he has a considerable local reputation.
He has, however, been in dramatics
before as "Tom" in the farce-comedy, "Advice to the Lovelorn", which played at the high school, the Cathedral and the Y. W. C. A. Popular with his class-mates, James Fox's name is a drawing-card for the public performance of "Growing Up".

This table is correctly set for breakfast for four. "Be is ever so humble," you know, your silver and other tableware may as well be properly placed.

Under ordinary conditions floor
wax should cover approximately 1,- 000 square feet to the pound.

NORRIS LAKE BEGINS TO FORM

river to flow through two similar gaps still open in midstream and brought a rise of five feet in the

Knowing How To Study Essential Says Dr. Green

Memorizing lessons and knowing how to study are two very different things, according to Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, and in an effort to increase the study efficiency of pupils Dr. Green has issued a bulletin which is a tentative statement of principles to guide teachers in teaching pupils how to study.

The statement follows:

The pupil must have the correct mental attitude toward study in order to accomplish good results. It is the teacher's task to create this attitude if it does not already exist.

Thought provoking study should be distinguished from mere memorization.

The pupil should be taught to organize subject matter.

The basis of interest in subject matter is its usefulness in accomplishing a purpose.

The pupil should be taught to maintain an open minded attitude toward all data presented for the solution of a problem and not allow preconceived ideas to influence him unduly.

The pupil should be taught to apply his new knowledge to a wider field.

Thoroughness in teaching should be qualitative rather than quantitative. True education is the development of an individual's powers rather than the mere imparting of knowledge.

In teaching pupils how to study the example of the teacher is the most powerful influence. Hence every teacher in order to be successful must have mastered the art of study.

Whenever it is possible the problem method should be used.

In all school procedure accuracy is an essential factor.

Accuracy.

Persistence.

Independent effort.

Ministers Helping To Bring Dr. Alley

Pastors, Peace Council Will Serve Jointly; Judge To Preside

Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand will preside over the public meeting in the First Baptist church on Sunday afternoon, April 28 at which Dr. Alden G. Alley, noted student and lecturer, will speak on "What is Happening in Europe and What it Means to America."

The New Castle Ministerial association today had joined the Lawrence County Council on the Cause and Cure of War as sponsors for the lecture here.

Members of the joint committee include Dr. C. B. Wingerd and Dr.
C. H. Heaton, of the ministerial group, and Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, Miss Marguerite White, Mrs. W. L.
Cosel and Arthur C. White, representing the peace group.

Special music that afternoon will be presented on the organ by Garth
Edmundson, the church's organist.
There will also be other special music.

Argument Over Ladder Causes Injury To Man

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 24—A neighbor quarrel resulting from the placing of a ladder on another man's property today had sent one man to a hospital and another in custody of police.

The ensuing battle over the ladder incident was waged with shovels
as weapons.

John Mosco, 33, was in a hospital with a skull fracture. His neighbor, Jo Chieppa, 44, has eight stitches in his head. Chieppa, police were told, placed the foot of a ladder on Mosco's property while starting to paint his house.

The popular notion that snakes can jump off the ground is erroneous; no snake can leap entirely from the ground.

Pogrom is a Russian word meaning devastation and was applied to anti-Jewish riots in Russia.

GEORGIA TO HONOR ITS WAR DEAD

This Confederate monument at Savannah, Ga., will be profusely decorated on April 26, observed as Confederate Memorial Day in Georgia. One of the first memorials erected in the south after the war between the states, it is constructed of Canadian sandstone, deliberately ordered by Dixie women who refused to purchase granite or marble from a Yankee state.

Hall Honored By Credit Bureaus

Manager Of New Castle Credit
Exchange Is Named Director Of State Organization

Ray F. Hall, Manager of the New Castle Credit Exchange, who is vice president of the Western District of the Association Credit Bureaus of Pennsylvania, was elected to serve as a director representing the western district for the next three years, at an election meeting in Pittsburgh yesterday. He will serve for a period of three years.

Walter Cook, of Washington, Pa., was named for a period of two years and E. H. Ward, of Uniontown, for a period of one year.

The method of electing officers for the organization was changed this year. Last year, the state area was split up into three sections, with a vice president in charge of each area. Directors were elected at the state convention.

No convention will be held this year, but instead, the different districts will have meetings from time to time. Three directors will be named from each district, who will gather in September to elect the state officers.

Batchelor Bill Passed By House

HARRISBURG, April 24—The Ziesenheim senate bill prohibiting erection of obstructions near airports today awaited Gov. George H.
Earle's signature.

Given approval by the house late yesterday, the bill would outlaw such structures as Baron Bestecki's alleged "spite tower" which halted aerial transportation at the Harrisburg airport.

The house also passed the Batchelor senate bill giving the commonwealth the right to recover sums paid illegally to persons for killing dogs.

HIT OF THE YEAR DUE HERE FRIDAY

Star Performance Will Be Staged
for Benefit of Motorists

Bright and early Friday, the curtain goes up on what is predicted to be the greatest performance that car-owners of this vicinity have ever enjoyed.

Considerable mystery still surrounds the matter. Enough details have been revealed, however, to indicate it will be the hit of the year.
Those "in the know" are extremely enthusiastic; and they are urging that every motorist make a note to watch for the big event Friday.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. 12 arrests on charges as follows: Drunkenness 4, exceeding parking time limit 6, and suspicion 2.

The group of RWD workers are employed in the city building. Several engineers are working on plans which will be used when money is available for city projects to be put through with RWD labor. Another group is at work on the codification of city ordinances.

During the past several weeks three new steel desks have been bought for city hall offices and indications are that the old style roll-tops will become things of the past insofar as city officials are concerned. One was bought some weeks ago and two were secured yesterday.

Within a few days the large industries of the city probably will pay their city taxes. Each year they make payments in late April when there is a discount. The money is welcomed as it generally provides the city money to pay debts for the first three months.

Howard Phillips has been assigned a health department sanitary role which extends north of Washington street. In addition to those duties he has charge of the collection and disposal of garbage. Chauncey Davis, sanitary policeman has charge south of Washington St. of sanitation.

Some time ago there were numerous trucks engaged in RWD work for which the city paid as high as $1.90 an hour, the total which was applied against the delinquent taxes of the truck owners. Neil Williams stated yesterday that the city now has only two trucks rented.

In the arrest of two youths by city detectives yesterday who confessed to robbing several business places there is a lesson for any other youth who has a fancy for appropriating articles not his own. John Law has been living a long time, and usually those who break the law land in his clutches.

KIDNEYS OUT OF FUNCTION?
A SIMPLE diuretic stimulant like Dr. Pierce's A-nuric is often indicated and usually it is sufficient to relieve minor kidney irregularities. Read this: "I suffered from dizziness and drowsiness, had headaches and became very weak. Also my ankles would swell," said Mrs. Mary M. Nickle of 22 Ridge Road, Chester, (Trainer), Pa. "I found it necessary to take Dr. Pierce's A-nuric Tablets only a short time when I was relieved of all this misery and I have never had any kidney trouble since." Sold by druggists.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Clinic, Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial package of A-nuric, and write for free medical advice.

On Court House Hill

It will probably be about two weeks yet before County Treasurer William O. Pitts will be able to mail out the 1935 tax cards which are now being prepared.

The term of common pleas court just closed was one of the shortest on record. One case was settled and one case continued. There have been six terms of common pleas court this year. The next term will be in October.

Attorneys Samuel L. Clark and M. J. Kraus are contesting disbarment proceedings filed at the instance of the Lawrence County Bar Association. Both have filed answers setting forth their sides of the cases. A hearing will be held in the Clark case on next Monday morning and in the Kraus case on Tuesday morning.

Under the will of the late James C. Wilson, of New Wilmington, his estate is left to his wife for life, or as long as she remains his widow. If then goes to two sons Wm. E. Wilson and Harry C. Wilson.

Miss Mary Loretta Hey is sole beneficiary under the will of her husband, the late Samuel H. Hey of the fourth ward.
Under the will of the late Katherine Zeigler, all her property is left to her husband Martin Zeigler.

Tax collectors would be restrained from levying upon tenants for taxes on properties which they occupy, under the bill which has been introduced in the legislature. While so far as known, no actual sales of tenants goods have taken place in New Castle, the practice of tax collectors threatening to make levies has caused tenants a great deal of unnecessary worry. There is a strong sentiment against the practice and from present indications the law under which it is done will be repealed by the present legislature.

Registering assessors in boroughs and townships will begin May registration and party enrollment on May 6th. They are expected to finish the registration not later than May 27th. The law requires that they hang a copy of the original registry list on doors where elections will be held. June 19th is the first legal date to obtain signatures on nomination papers by judicial candidates. July 4th is the first legal date to obtain signatures to nomination petitions for county, city, borough and township offices.

Attention of persons who have money at interest on mortgages or notes, is called to the fact that if they have not already filed a return of such money at the county commissioners office, this should be done at once. In the event that no return is filed the tax authorities have the right to double the amount which is found on the records. Most taxpayers have no doubt filed their return for 1935, but some may have overlooked it. The present tax on money at interest is four mills but an effort will be made at the present session of the legislature to raise it to six mills.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard, is looking after spring housecleaning at his office and in the county jail. Prisoners have been found willing to help with the latter, and the jail is being put in first class shape. The sheriff's office has already undergone a complete renovation.

The new plan of having Parole Officer Jack Dunlap collect payments in non-support and divorce cases is working out satisfactorily. Before any process is issued for delinquents Dunlap contacts them personally and finds out their reasons for not paying according to the order of court. Where their default is found to be due to lack of employment efforts are made to secure jobs for them.

Calahan Leaves To Check On Jamboree

Regional Officer, Here Temporarily, Goes To East; To Return Here

J. Lee Calahan, Philadelphia, deputy regional executive of the Boy Scouts of America, here to supervise negotiations for the merger of the Lawrence and Mercer scout councils, left today for Washington, D. C., to ascertain last-minute developments for the August Jamboree of the nation's Boy Scouts in the capital city. Calahan, in his capacity as a regional officer, will play a prominent part in the summer conclave which will jam Washington with scouts from all over the country. He is to stop at DuBois and Apollo enroute east to participate in scout affairs.

Returning here about May 1, Mr. Calahan will remain here until around May 6 and then depart to resume his regular regional duties. He is at leave from the regional post for the present.

The Lawrence-Mercer consolidation has been effected temporarily and will likely become a permanent union in the fall. Chester H. Childs, Sharon, executive of the Mercer council, is sharing his time between the Lawrence and Mercer councils.

Contractor Ready To Start Steel Work On Structure Over Wolf Creek

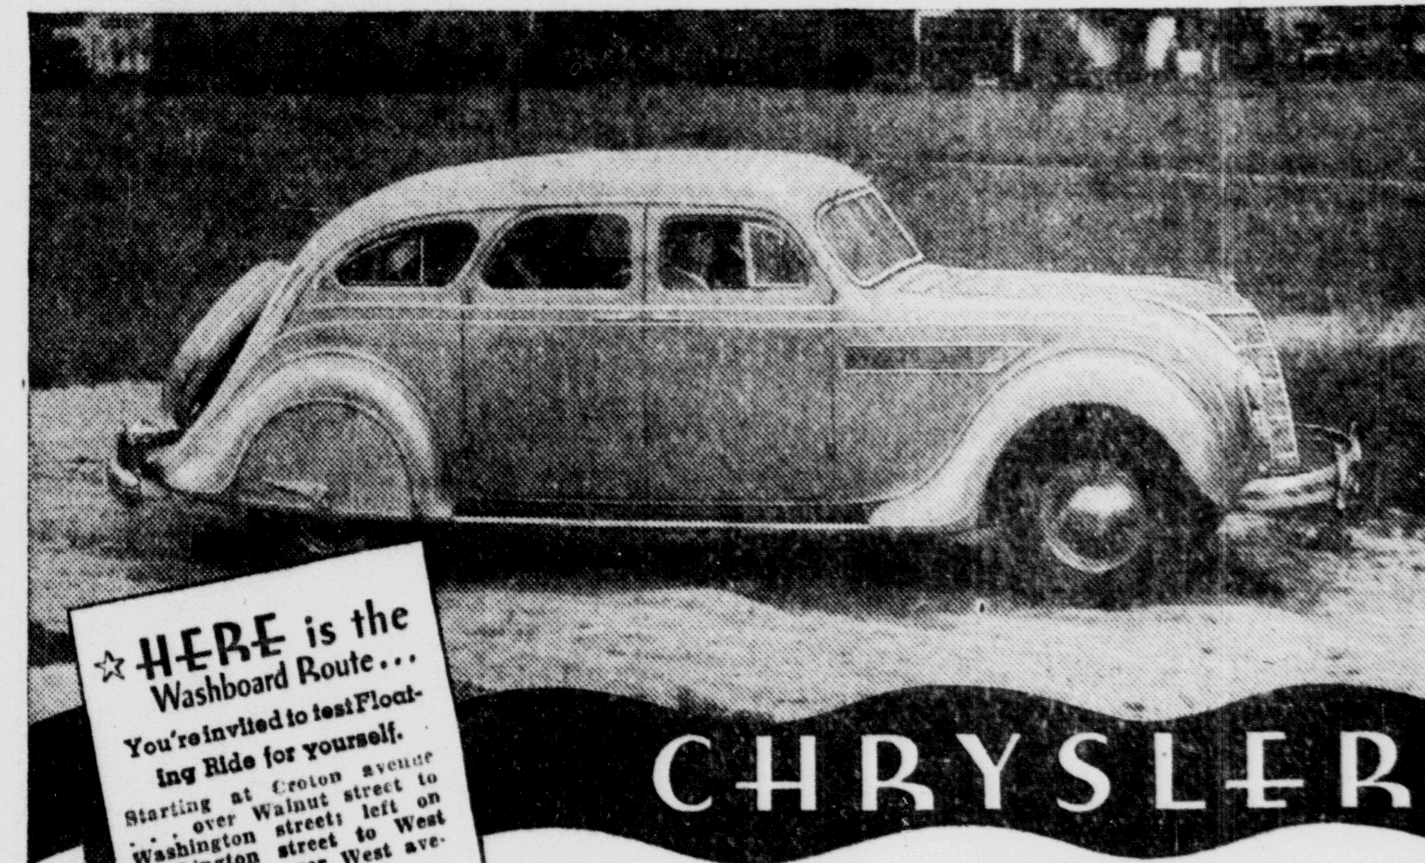

GROVE CITY, April 24.—Using a crew of 24 men on double turns, in a long struggle with high water and a heavy vein of rock shale, C. B. Sipes, superintendent in charge of the construction of the new North avenue bridge, now expects to beat the contract time limit.

With the last of the concrete footers to be placed this week, the men employed by the Reliance Steel Products Co. of Pittsburgh expect to start stringing steel early next week. By early summer the bridge should be open to travel, eliminating a detour in effect since the old span was condemned last fall. The former bridge has been in place since 1871.

Large Crowd At Fifth Food Show

Fifth Annual Lawrence County Show, At Cathedral, Attracts Throng

CONTINUES UNTIL SATURDAY NIGHT

Opening night crowd at the fifth annual food show, home beautiful exposition, and electrical refrigeration display, being held under the auspices of the Lawrence County Retail Grocers & Meat Dealers association, which started Tuesday evening in the cathedral, exceeded all expectations and indicated that this year's event will surpass the shows staged in the past few years.

From various sections of Lawrence County, several hundred men, women and children gathered and enjoyed the numerous attractive food exhibits and an appealing musical program by Don Potter and his saxophone band. Last night's program closed with the free distribution of some 20 baskets of groceries and 10 other prizes.

The large crowd displayed much interest in the many artistically arranged exhibits of foodstuffs, and were rewarded with samples. The home beautiful exposition and electrical refrigeration show appealed to the throng. The latest furnishings for the home attracted the attention of practically every person present.

Frank W. Hill, general chairman, announced today that this evening's program includes music by a leading orchestra in the district and the Shirley Temple movie contest. With the number of entries in the contest, the judges have a difficult task ahead of them in selecting the winner, Hill announced. Again this evening, about 30 more baskets of groceries and other prizes will be given away free.

The show will open nightly at 7:30 o'clock and close at 10:30 o'clock. This year's food show will terminate on Saturday evening.

Huge Reservoir Again Attracts Tourist Crowds

Thousands Of Motorists Are Making Trip To See Pymatuning Dam And Lake

With the return of fair weather thousands of Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York motorists are driving to the Pymatuning Reservoir.

The gigantic dam and the mammoth body of inland water has become one of the most interesting sights in Pennsylvania and promises to create, in a few years, a vast summer resort section.

Already the residents of Greenville, Jamestown, Andover, Espyville and other towns in the vicinity are catering to the heavy tourist traffic. "Cabins" for overnight visitors, roadside stands and restaurants are cropping up and it looks like a happy and prosperous summer for all. Signs along the lake inform the visitors that there are lake-front lots to be had for the asking and the money. The state had provided a few picnic tables near the dam but has posted a sign "No Camping."

Visitors making the trip for the first time not only marvel at the size of the lake, but are surprised at the artistic manner in which the dam itself has been built. The top and visible portion of the dam, as well as the gate house are constructed of carefully fitted cut stone and present a very pleasing appearance.

Every day motor boats can be seen getting their exercise, and wild ducks in abundance fly over the lake in search for finned morsels. Swimmers are awaiting warmer weather. Fishermen are visualizing the paradise to be gained as soon as the place becomes sufficiently stocked, and are wondering what fishing arrangements will be made, since a part of the lake lies in Ohio, and the rest in Pennsylvania.

New Castle motorists may reach the dam by going to Mercer, thence to Greenville and Jamestown. The dam lies only a short distance above Jamestown and is a concrete highway. A further conception of the size of the reservoir may be obtained by traveling north to Andover, O. and crossing the lake from there to Espyville. A road across the lake has been built at that point.

CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES WILL BOOST RECOVERY

Du Pont Stresses Important Part

Path To Real Recovery Is By Creating More New Jobs, He Says

THINKS CHEMISTS WILL AID PROGRESS

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 24.—The nation's potent chemical industries will play an important part in bringing about recovery, which will be done by creating "more wants and more jobs," Lamont Du Pont, president of the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co., declared today.

Now looked upon as a barometer of industrial progress, the industries are prepared to make their contribution to the development of new industries by the creation of new materials designed to meet certain needs, Du Pont said in an address prepared for delivery before the tercentenary convention of the American Chemical Society.

Must Create Jobs.
"The immediate job confronting us as chemists, business men and citizens is to apply our energy, ingenuity and skill to the promotion of national recovery, which in plain language means creating more wants and thereby more jobs," he said. "Our industrial progress in the future undoubtedly will proceed at a greater rate through co-operation that industry in general will receive from the chemical industry."
The industrialist told of the phenomenal growth of the heavy chemical industry in this country since the world war and its relationship to important industries which use acids, alkalies and salts in large quantities.

All Possess Language.

Eating Bark And Earth.
Wait Until 2035.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

SECRETARY OF INTERIOR

ICKES, who also possesses the gift of forcible speech, calling Senator Long "a ranting demagogue" describes, more gently, one other well-known broadcaster, and rebukes without mentioning his name. Dr. Townsend, whom he accuses of arousing false hopes in the "underprivileged."

Senator Huey Long, his language never failing him, able to speak his mind freely in the Senate, addressing that august body, describes the Secretary of the Interior as "Lord High Chamberlain Ickes, the chinchbug of Chicago."

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace he called the "Lord Destroyer, the ignominious of Iowa."

WEARING VERY handsome clothes and remarking, "I had to come up here and show them how to dress," Senator Long spoke with the galleries packed and scores of representatives standing back of the Senators.

Those that Mr. Long criticizes are able to criticize in return, well educated in the use of "language." Some interesting speeches may be expected.

LADY ASTOR, our charming Virginia girl in the British House of Commons, advises women not to imitate men.

Said she:
"I should not think women would want to resemble men."

Said she:
Madame de Sevigne said it more emphatically:
"The more I see of dogs, the less I think of men."

WE COMPLAIN of our depression with good cause. We might find queer consolation in reading about miserable inhabitants of Formosa, property of Japan, inhabited chiefly by Chinese, who made up eighty per cent of the sufferers and victims in the recent earthquake.

In Formosa, men, women and children have been stripping the bark from elm trees and eating it, and they may be seen on barren fields, pulling up wild grass by the roots, washing and eating the roots, as well as the grass itself. Many have died from eating bran mixed with earth and water, the earth causing death by intestinal stoppage.

THOSE POOR creatures have a REAL depression, with no rich government to pour out billions for jobs, relief, etc.

Chemists gathered in New York assure the world of science that some day a rich flour will be made of grass, "rich in vitamins and proteins and smelling like malted milk."

That may come, but the possibility does not interest unfortunate Formosans, trying to eat grass in its natural state.

NEWSPAPER EDITORS, that ought to know something about prosperity, gathered in New York from all over the country, tell you they see a "business pickup," better times are coming. That is a cheerful prediction.

Here is another:
A distinguished scientist and chemist, Mr. Midgley, tells you that men will travel to Mars in the year 2035. The baby born today might go, if he lived one hundred years.

To go to Mars, and perhaps visit other planets, it is only necessary to develop some propelling substance, producing more energy per pound than is required to lift that pound out of the earth's gravitational field.

ASSUMING that the interplanetary travelers could go 1,000 miles an hour, they would reach Mars, at its nearest point to the earth, in 40,000 hours.

They would need considerable food, also water enough to last until their return probably. No water on Mars, is the latest verdict.

Common sense says that we shall never leave this earth only death calls us, but there remains the fact that whatever men can imagine they can do.

Some Englishmen suggests respectfully to King George:

"Why not do something for Rudyard Kipling in honor of your jubilee?"

Kipling, who has lived for thirty years in retreat, never allowing a telephone in his house, deserves all the honor that King George can confer upon him. He has been a good advertisement for the British Empire. Read his poem about the flag of England.

His admirers will find comfort in the fact that Homer, Dante, Shakespeare and Villon got along well without royal honors. What they wrote about others was more important than all that any king could do for them.

IN LONDON, David Williams, thanks to one of surgery's many miracles recovers his sight at the age of twenty, having been blind since his second birthday. For a change, he does NOT say:

"How beautiful the world is."

He is disappointed, human beings are not as beautiful as he thought they were, and not the same shape. He thought he would find all faces peaceful and calm and will try to paint faces as he imagined them while blind.

If Mr. Williams would come here and listen to American radio recipes for a better government and better constitution, he could imagine some faces that he never saw in his blindness.

Would Make Plane Wings Immune From Danger Of Flames

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 24.—The fire danger in the airplanes—one of the most dread hazards of aviation—can now be eliminated through development of a process which makes fabric fire-resistant, Dr. Gordon M. Kline, of the United States Bureau of Standards, revealed in an address prepared for delivery before the American Chemical Society.

Dr. Kline said satisfactory protection against ignition can be obtained by doping the airplane cloth with a substance called cellulose acetate after it has been treated with a boric acid-borax mixture. He advocated the use of that process in place of the "very inflammable cellulose nitrate," now generally used.

Eliminate Dangers
"Gasoline splashed on the surface of cloth so doped is burned off without setting fire to the doped product," he said. "While ordinary airplane fabric coated with cellulose nitrate dopes is instantly ignited by a lighted safety match dropped on it in a horizontal position and is soon completely consumed."

He said the rapid growth of the airplane industry in this country has made it extremely important to eliminate the fire hazard resulting from doping wings and fuselage fabric with cellulose nitrate.

"Destruction of costly aircraft by the accidental ignition from the backfiring of a motor, the careless toss of a lighted match or cigarette, or the chance settling of a spark from a nearby flue, has become too general an occurrence," he continued.

code and section 511 would be amended to provide that "no work shall be hired to be done, no materials purchased and no contracts made by any board of school directors which will cause the sums appropriated to specific purposes in the budget to be exceeded. No contracts, hirings or purchases made, not provided for by any appropriation or which will cause any appropriation to be exceeded, shall be valid."

Schoolmen here point out that this section might easily cause serious annoyance, especially with a budget peeled to the bare bone as is the budget for the coming year. As an example, the budget estimate for repairs for the coming year has been pared to $20,000. This includes plumbing repairs, heating repairs and general repairs to the building. Should a heating system in a school go bad, necessitating the spending of several thousand dollars, this would over run the budget allowance and would be illegal under the act.

The fact further provides that future budgets shall be furnished on forms prepared by the Department of Internal Affairs and that final action shall not be taken until after a public hearing has been held which shall be advertised ten days prior. A sufficient number of copies must be printed to provide all persons interested with a copy.

A budget is a detailed affair and would require considerable printing costs. Should any great number of citizens ask for copies as would be likely, the printing cost would run into real money.

Former State Relief Administrator Called For Conference With Committee

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 24.—Eric Biddle, state relief administrator under the Pinchot administration, today was invited to appear before the joint legislative committee investigating unemployment relief at an executive session next Tuesday night.

Announcement that the committee's next move will be an informal discussion of relief with Biddle came from Chairman Miles Horst, Lebanon, after the committee heard an outline of jobless aid as it exists today from the present administrator, Robert L. Johnson.

"We had an informal conference with Mr. Johnson," Horst said, "in which we took up the general picture of relief administration. We got the setup of the state headquarters offices and then a picture of the setup in counties. It was merely a meeting to get information."

Horst said no date had been set for starting public hearings. After meeting with Biddle, the committee will sit down with members of various house committees investigating relief administration in more than a dozen counties throughout the state.

Mistrial Declared In Beaver Court

(International News Service)
BEAVER, Pa., April 24.—It's all right to be chivalrous and all that—but not with a woman juror. Hence Judge Marion Patterson, of Blair county, sitting as visiting judge, today declared a mistrial in the suit of Philip E. Hamilton against the Beaver County HOLC.

Hamilton complained he had seen the woman juror riding in the automobile of Robert W. Baggis, postmaster of Beaver Falls and former county HOLC manager.

Baggis was called into court. Said he:

"She was with two men and I was driving them all home. I didn't know she was a juror and—"

"Mistrial," ruled the judge curtly.

Y. W. Workers Boost Drive To 874 Members

This is a day of historical importance to the Young Women's Christian Association of New Castle for it has achieved a voluntary membership greater than it has ever had since the association was instituted many years ago.

When the membership campaign workers assembled for the final luncheon report meeting of an intensive three week's drive for new members, early this afternoon, they presented the following victorious box score:

Total members, paid and pledged—874.

Total cash—$783.50.

Total members, pledged—715.

Total members, pledged—158.

Those who have pledged their memberships have promised to pay their fees on or before June 1. When all money is collected the Y. W. C. A. will have $941.50.

Today set a new record for the Y. W. C. A. and when the grand totals were announced the workers responded with an enthusiastic burst of applause, and immediately suggested that they continue the search for even more members in the effort to make the total climb to 1000.

Dr. Mildred Rogers, membership chairman, suggested that the drive not be considered closed until May 21 (Tuesday evening) when a final report will be submitted at the annual meeting of the association. The workers readily agreed and left the third floor dining room in high spirits and determined to boost the 874 to 1000.

Last year's membership was in the 600's and that time was the highest ever established.

By Soil Erosion
Program

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 24.—Awaiting only executive orders from the president, Director Robert Fechner, of the CCC, Tuesday, was ready to issue orders to double the number of men in CCC camps to combat the wind erosion in the dust-storm swept western plains states.

With 12,500 men already engaged in soil erosion service in the states of Kansas, North and South Dakota, Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas, the president gave verbal approval to plans to increase the number to 25,000, with the number of camps increased from 67 to 125.

Among 33 other states, 432 other soil erosion camps will be placed, making a total of 557 camps, with 114,000 men, engaged in this work to prevent further destruction of the soil.

President Roosevelt, at a conference with Fechner, gave verbal approval to the CCC program of increasing enrollments from 375,000 men to 600,000 men by July 1, increasing the number of camps from 1,612 to 2,916.

WHEN HUDSON SAYS Economy

HUDSON MEANS Proved Economy

More Miles per Gallon—and Lower Upkeep Cost per Mile

Over 20 miles per gallon would be remarkable gasoline mileage—even for a small car! How much more remarkable for a car as big, as fast, as powerful, as the new Hudson Eight!

But Hudson gives owners another kind of economy that is even more important—economy that comes from the ruggedness found only in cars built as Hudson builds them. America's only bodies all of steel! Chassis as rugged as bodies! The finest materials obtainable!

Just in the last few weeks new thousands of owners have come forward to testify to the low cost of driving a Hudson. Their

Hudson Eights Averaged 20.1 Miles per Gallon in Nation-Wide Tests

20.1 miles per gallon of gas—in a big, powerful 8-cylinder car! That's the average from scores of reports of officially checked Hudson economy tests in cities all over the country last month. Each car started with exactly 5 gallons of gas; each ran until this fuel was gone. Average distance—100.595 miles!

"But these are test figures," you say! True—and no owner of any car expects to equal these in everyday driving, with all its stops and starts. But these tests show what every Hudson owner knows—that a Hudson regularly gives big car performance at small car cost, even in city traffic.

sworn affidavits are amazing proof, not only of high gasoline and oil mileage, but of total upkeep costs as low as a fraction of a cent a mile—year in and year out.

Drive a new Hudson Six or Eight before you buy—and make your own comparison with other cars. Then ask for the proof of economy, performance and ruggedness to compare with the proof that any Hudson and Terraplane dealer will gladly give you.

Taggart Field Is Polished Up

Taggart Field Is Made Ready For First Spring Football Game Friday Night

NEW TEAM ROOM WILL BE USED

Taggart field is being polished up for the first spring game of the year Friday night, April 26, and the football fans are going to find several improvements.

One of the most outstanding improvements of course will be the new team room for the New Castle high players that was completed late last fall and is the last word in rooms of its kind, with big shower baths, lockers and everything that a football team needs.

The room formerly used by the high school team under the stadium will be turned over to the visiting teams this year, doing away with the visitors having to use the Ben Franklin high building as heretofore.

Big Double Gates. Another outstanding improvement will be the big double gates that have been swung at both ends of the concrete stands to allow the crowd to pass out quickly after the games.

New outside toilets have been built for the exclusive use of the fans in the bleacher seats. This will greatly facilitate the handling of crowds under the concrete stands during intermission.

The warm weather of the past few days has helped the beautiful green grass to get started and the playing field will represent a picture Friday night.

The mammoth floodlights have been painted and renovated and placed on the poles ready to flood the field with light Friday night. It is no easy task getting ready for a football game, and Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner and his assistants have been quite busy for the past several days getting all of the details into shape.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAKER, JR.

NOTRE DAME IN THE MAJORS

Practically every sports fan can connect names like Gipp, Carideo, Schwartz, Cannon and drill with Notre Dame tradition, but how many know that some of the great major league performers were at one time students at the South Bend university. Beginning in 1867 many players have found their way to the American and National leagues.

Adrian C. "Pop" Anson started the march of Notre Dame men toward baseball glory. When "Pop" was enrolled at the school of the Fighting Irish the game was still in its infancy, being known at that time as "Rounders."

Anson began his professional career with the Chicago Cubs. He served as a major league player for 22 years, a feat that has been bettered only by Ty Cobb, Eddie Collins, Rabbit Maranville, and Jimmy Wallace. He batted over 300 in 20 of those years; only Ty Cobb has done better.

Ed Ruelbach, one of the best pitchers the National League ever had, was a monogram winner at Notre Dame. Ed was the leading National League pitcher in 1905 with a record of 24 victories and seven defeats. In 1909 he won a record of 24 victories and 7 defeats. In 1909 he won 14 consecutive games.

Two ex-Clevelanders who performed at Notre Dame were Joe Birmingham and Sockalexis. Joe is rated along with Charlie Jameson as Cleveland's best in left field. Sockalexis had a brief but remarkable major league career. It was while he played with Cleveland that the team received the name "Indians."

New York seemed to be the destination of most Notre Dame catchers. Roger Bresnahan, remembered best as the battery mate of the immortal Christy Mathewson, had a remarkable career with the Giants. Rogers was the first catcher in the majors to wear shin guards.

Harry Curtis, Joe Kenny, and Red Smith of the Giants, and Jim Silver of the Dodgers were other catchers who went metropolitan.

Johnny Murray, catcher on the 1906 team, was grabbed by the St. Louis Cards. His best work, however, was done later as an outfielder with the Giants. He will be remembered more easily as "Red" Murray, who played with the Giants when "Bugs" Raymond was thrilling the New York fans with his humorous antics and fine pitching.

The N. D. team which sent the most players to the majors in one season was that of 1909. In that year five received major league trials. The Scanlon brothers were a sensation at Detroit as a fraternal battery. Billy Burke, although only 19 years old, made good as a pitcher for the Boston Red Sox. Bert Daniels, a first baseman at Notre Dame, was converted into an outfielder by the Yankees. Ed McDonough caught for several seasons at Philadelphia and Cincinnati.

Jean Dobie joined the Cincinnati team in 1908 but was dropped because he lacked experience. Hughie Jennings grabbed him for Detroit four years later and he remained there until 1916.

George Cuthash did not remain long at Notre Dame, but he learned a lot of baseball during his short stay. His major league career was spent at Brooklyn, Detroit and Pittsburgh. George is co-holder of the record of making six hits in six times at bat.

One of the greatest sluggers in the majors was Fred "Cy" Williams. He joined the Chicago Cubs in 1912 after a brilliant college career. As a member of the Phillies he led the National League in home runs in 1920 and 1923, and tied with Hack Wilson for the lead in 1927.

Bob Hoscher, an outfielder with St. Louis and Cincinnati, was one of the greatest base stealers the game has ever produced. As a member of the Reds in 1911 he pilfered 80 bases. There are others, too who have had major league experience. Paul Castner, who preceded Elmer Layden as the N. D. fullback, played for a time with the Whitesox. Herb Kelly, captain of the 1914 team, pitched for Cleveland and Pittsburgh. Red Kelly joined the Chicago Whitesox about the time the song "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly," was so popular.

Alex McCarthy, Tom Quigley, Lefty Inks and Frank Carmody played with Pittsburgh. Mike Powers played with the Athletics, Norwood Gibson performed for the Red Sox and Phil O'Neill with Cincinnati. Many more Notre Dame students have performed in the majors but the majority of those who became stars have been mentioned.

Giants, Braves Players Offer Their Opinions

Babe Ruth Would Like To See Fast Ball; Dickie Bartell Is Enthused At Homer

(International News Service) NEW YORK, April 24.—The dug-out is the place for gossip and information. Listen in on the Braves and Giants.

Dick Bartell, Giants' shortstop: "I played all last year without getting anything that looks like a homer and here I make my first appearance as a Giant at the Polo grounds and get one. Looks like a big year for me. I wouldn't be surprised if I got six this year."

Rabbit Maranville, Braves' utility infielder: "That bunn leg is still a little sore in one spot. But it will be okay any day now and I'll be in there just as good as ever."

Bill Terry: "That Camilli (Phils' first baseman) is a real hitter. Wish I had him."

All Curves. Babe Ruth: "I'd like to hit in this park all the time. This is sure a curve ball league. I haven't seen a fast one since the season opened. Don't they ever throw anything but curves over here?"

Frank Hogan, Braves' catcher: "Well, well, 50,000 here I see. Guess they all turned out to see me, eh, Babe?"

Gus Mancuso, Giants' catcher: "We're going to have better pitching than we had last year."

Terry: "Hubbell is better right now than he ever was in his life."

Pirates Defeat Cincinnati, 4-3

Weaver Blows Up And Swift Finishes For Pirates, Braves Lose To Giants

DOLPH CAMILLI HITS SIXTH HOMER

By PAT ROBINSON International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 24.—While Babe Ruth was playing an ordinary fly ball into a home run which enabled the Giants to defeat the Braves, 6-5, before 50,000 at the Polo Grounds yesterday, a lad who may take over the Babe's crown was startling the natives on the wrong side of the Brooklyn bridge with his sixth homer in as many games.

The lad in question is Dolph Camilli of the Phillies, who, incidentally, were beaten by the Dodgers, 12 to 5. This big fellow, who plays plenty of first base, is in the opinion of other ball players the man most likely to surpass Ruth's 50 homers.

No less an authority than Bill Terry, manager of the Giants, says the husky Italian who has what it takes, and Jimmy Wilson, pilot of the Phils, is the fellow who set Camilli on the road to fame.

Jimmy changed Dolph's stance at the plate to make him a pull hitter and where he got only 15 homers hitting into left and center fields last year, he had already poked six out of the lot in right field this season.

He's no morning glory," said Terry. "He's a real hitter and he's got plenty of power. He'll be the sensation of the league this year and don't let anybody tell you he'll have to have that Philly bandbox to do his stuff in. He can hit 'em in any park."

No small part of the Dodgers' triumph over the Phils was contributed by another rising sensation, Linus Fry, Brooklyn shortstop, who got his third homer with the bases fully tenanted.

Luque To Rescue Up at the Polo Grounds, the Giants had to go 11 innings to trim the Braves by one run and the margin of victory tells you better than words how much the Babe's misjudging of Terry's fly meant to his team.

Old Adolfo Luque, who started pitching soon after Lee and Grant, signed by another rising sensation, Linus Fry, Brooklyn shortstop, who got his third homer with the bases fully tenanted.

Pirates Win The Pirates put all their run scoring into one inning to nose out the peppy Reds, 4 to 3.

A quartet of Yankee throwers were not enough to check the mad rush of the Red Sox who made their home-coming a happy one by trouncing the New Yorkers, 7 to 4, with Ostermuller and Henry Johnson operating for the home towners.

The Senators and Athletics staged an old-fashioned slugfest with the former getting the nod, 6 to 4. When Connie Mack's pitchers are bad, the rest of the A's hit and when the throwers are good, the rest go to sleep with their bats on their shoulders.

Cleveland Wins The Indians are still as good as advertised. They strung five runs together in the first inning against the Browns and when they had to come from behind to win in the ninth, they put over two more, making the final count 7 to 6. Voshell's triple and Hemsley's wild throw figured in the result.

The Tigers seem unable to get going. Cochrane tried to beat the White Sox with old General Crowder but the Sox buried the General under a five run barrage and went on to win for Sad Sam Jones, who is even older than the General, 7-2.

Aliquippa Will Send Big Crowd

Aliquippa Asks For 1,000 Tickets For Game Here Friday

When Aliquippa high school football team comes to New Castle Friday night for the spring night game with the "Red Hurricanes," the townsfolk of the Steel City will be back of the team by over 1,000, it is indicated.

The Aliquippians have asked for 1,000 tickets and they are selling fast for the game. The last time that the "Quips" played here New Castle took it 13 to 2, and for that reason the boys and girls are anxious to see Nate Lippe and his red and black horde sort of make amends.

Tickets for the game were placed on sale in New Castle today at the Sporting Goods store. The tickets on sale for the game are the 50-cent reserved seats. The 35-cent bleacher seats will not be on sale until the night of the game. The student tickets are selling for 25 cents in the schools.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Eddie Zivic has completed training for his bout with Tony Canzoneri, former lightweight champion, at Pittsburgh, Thursday night. Johnny Ray, a former lightweight boxer of Pittsburgh, has put Zivic in condition. The Zivic-Canzoneri scrap is scheduled to go 10 rounds.

Elizabeth Ryan at Florence, Italy, announced her resignation from tournament tennis. She said she will not defend her double titles at Paris or Wimbledon this year. She said that the depression and depleted finances made it necessary that she take up some other career, probably writing or reporting.

When Midget Wolgast defeated Willie Davies here several years ago, Long Sing Que, a Chinaman, fought Roy Minter. Last night in New York City, the Chinaman was knocked out by another boy who has fought here. The victor was Sammy Angot, Washington, Pa., who has left the amateurs. Sammy won in the second round.

Banquet Plans At East Brook Making Progress

Members Of East Brook A. A. Asked To Meet Thursday Night At Waddington Home

Plans have all been completed and the various committees at East Brook are hard at work on the details of the coming basketball banquet for the boys and girls of East Brook High on the night of April 30.

The banquet is shaping up as one of the finest ever held in the community and the ticket sale has been gratifying to date. The time of the banquet is 6:30 o'clock. The East Brook A. A. is working hard to make the occasion one to be remembered in East Brook for years to come.

Lou Harlan, president of the East Brook A. A. has charge of the entertainment committee and Mrs. F. J. Waddington is chairman of the banquet committee. Under these two capable heads the affair promises to be a big success in every detail.

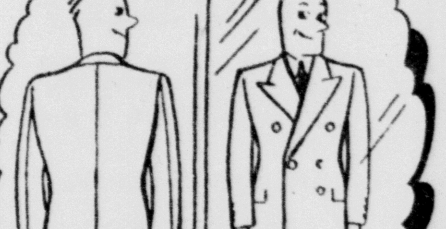

No tickets will be sold at the door the night of the banquet and those wanting reservations can get them by calling Mrs. Fink at 8009-R5, Miss Edna Waddington at 8094-R14, or Mrs. Gail McAnis at 8009-R2.

All members of the East Brook A. A. are asked to meet Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock at the home of F. J. Waddington for a special business meeting. This will be the final meeting prior to the banquet and all of the details will be taken up for discussion.

Gardner Names Grid Officials

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner today named the following officials to handle the New Castle Aliquippa high grid battle here Friday night. The game, it was announced, will start at 8:15 o'clock.

The referee will be D. W. Merriam. The umpire will be Robert Forbes, and Kenneth Heider, former New Brighton high coach, will act as head linesman.

ZIVIC-CANZONERI BATTLE THURSDAY

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, April 24.—Eddie Zivic of Pittsburgh today had completed an intensive training grueling for his scheduled 10-round battle tomorrow with snappy Tony Canzoneri. Tony's manager announced in New York that his boxer was in better condition than he has been in the last few years. Both expect to weigh in around 133 pounds.

INTEREST IN SOFT BALL

There is considerable interest being shown in soft ball in New Castle this year. There are two leagues here in the City league and Italian league, with a league forming at the Tin Mill. The game is eight years old in New Castle, and is taking hold with a bang. The City league could have had 12 teams this year, it probably will have that many next year. Get your soft ball dope into The News early for this column.

Made By Silver

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 24.—Moderate higher prices ruled in the stock market today but bullish enthusiasm was restrained by difficulties on the Chicago board of trade where a leading firm filed for reorganization under the bankruptcy act.

This was reflected in further weakness in grains after yesterday's break, and led to some selling in securities.

A supporting factor, however, was a new spurt in silver, with the world price crossing the domestic level of 71.1 cents an ounce. This brought a further advance in silver shares to new highs for the advance after early hesitation.

Consolidated Gas was firm on payment of the regular 25-cent dividend, and at one time worked up fractionally to a new high for the year. Other utilities made little progress. Stocks were little more than steady, awaiting the Bethlehem Steel first quarter report due tomorrow. Motors were weighed down by the Chevrolet plant strike, but declines were small and the undertone was firm.

There were active dealings in oil shares but price changes were inconsequential. U. S. Alcohol was a strong spot in its group, rising more than a point. Tobacco was better and foods quiet. Farm shares were firm.

AUTOMOBILE SET
AFIRE BY CHILDREN

While playing in an old automobile in the yard of E. H. Waldo of 608 E. Summer avenue, at 10:05 this morning, children set the car on fire.

An alarm was sounded from Box 27, summoning second ward firemen to the scene, who extinguished the blaze. The loss was around $25.

When either horses or cows eat bark it is usually a sign of the deficiency of mineral matter in their diets.

ELLWOOD CITY, April 24.—The Foremen's club of the local Tube plant held their final gathering of the year in the form of a dinner meeting at the Shelby club house on Tuesday evening, with nearly 250 in attendance.

W. Bruce Hunter, president of the club, presided on the occasion. An interesting program featured the evening. William Jones, prominent local singer, rendered a number of selections, accompanied by Glenn Hoffman. He also led a period of pep singing.

Mr. Hunter then presided over a short business meeting at which all matters of the club were brought to a close. Howard Gillespie, Edw. Spencer and Pat Boyle, who were pensioned from the mill, were made honorary members of the Foremen's club. Mr. Hunter thanked the remaining officers and active committees of the club for their hard work in bringing to a successful close a most active year. He stressed the splendid work done by Lefe Laurie and Dick Downing. A membership drive was completed and the organization at the present has 261 full paid members.

The new officers for next year were then introduced by Mr. Hunter. Each responded with a few words. They are: President, Paul Flautz; vice president, E. R. Downing; secretary, George W. Wilson, and treasurer, Walter Baish.

After a financial report given by Secretary Wilson, it was announced that Boulder Dam pictures will be shown here on May 3 to which the foremen and their families are invited to see.

Two fine addresses were given the evening. A paper written by Tom Davies, assistant to the vice president of the National Tube company, was read by his representative, Tom 825; pigs 8-9.

The principal address of the evening was delivered by Attorney Lawrence W. Sebring of Beaver. His subject was "The Foremen's Place in the Community." He stated that the foremen have attained their present position because they possess intelligence, force of character, enthusiasm and ability to handle men. In short they were leaders evolved by their own efforts to the position.

Attorney Sebring declared that the industrial life of industry has changed since several years ago. The plants are working at a loss in order to provide for the mill. This is brought on by the codes which have practically put everything on an equal footing. He urged that the foremen and employees of the mill fight propaganda against their industry which is the sustenance of this community. See that the industry also gets a square deal. He asserted that there was no royal or easy way out of this panic. It can't be accomplished by spending or cutting hours in two. It is labor that creates wealth. This can only be done by teamwork.

Stiffing propaganda and showing a personal interest in the welfare of their industry and city is the foreman's relation to the community in which he lives.

Apollo Plant Being Moved To Butler, Pa.

Pittsburgh Steel Drum Company Moves Plant As Strikers Refuse To Agree

(International News Service) APOLLO, Pa., April 24.—While some 100 strikers picketing the plant of the Pittsburgh Steel Drum Company looked on today, workmen carted machinery from the plant in preparation to moving the business to Butler, Pa.

The strike began April 3 when workers asked a 35 per cent wage increase. They were getting $18.40 weekly and demanded $24.80. Company officials refused.

The strike was called by the United Steel Drum Workers Union, affiliate of the American Federation of Labor. Officials of the company decided, they said, to have all their equipment moved to Butler. This was their answer to the strike. Incidentally today the strikers watched as husky hands carted out the non-waterproof drums and loaded them into trucks. "It's a bluff," said one striker skeptically. "Yeah, but supposin' it ain't?" said another. "Then we won't have no work." "Well, we're all farmers here anyway," opined another. "If it comes to it we can go back to the farming we did before the company started here."

A weekly payroll of $2,000 will be lost to this town. More than 400 workers would be involved because of the transfer of the plant. Burgess S. S. Baldrige said: "It is unlikely that the Apollo Steel Company can absorb all the employees from the other concern. The strike has made conditions grave."

Company officials have stated they are moving but they did not say it was because of the strike.

The day's events will mark, he said, the close of the boys' department gymnasium activities of the winter. He said that within a few days a spring swimming schedule for the boys will be issued. Among Saturday's events will be gymnasium celebrations, a candy hunt, relay races and other recreational stunts. The spring swimming schedule for the boys will take effect next week.

FREE GARDEN SEEDS WILL BE PROVIDED HERE

Distribution Of Seeds For Thrift Gardens To Be Started On Monday

Free garden seeds will be distributed by the Emergency Relief beginning Monday, April 29, according to Director James W. Moorhead today. The seeds are to be used in planting thrift gardens and will be given only to those persons on relief who have registered for seeds.

This year it is hoped the thrift garden idea will take hold even more than it did last year. Relief officials hope that people will be interested enough in their welfare to raise at least part of the produce they will consume in the coming winter months. The seeds will be distributed in the reception room of the relief office and all that is necessary is for the person to present himself at the desk Monday morning and the seeds will be given out.

Postpone Opening Of Board Of Trade In Chicago Today

Board Of Trade Will Not Open Pending Decision In Federal Court

(International News Service) CHICAGO, April 24.—Opening of the Chicago Board of Trade today was postponed, pending decision of the federal court regarding an injunction granted the Rosenbaum grain corporation restraining the board and its clearing house from suspending the firm.

Explaining the postponement, Fred C. Clutton, secretary of the board of trade, announced: "In view of the fact that a court order was issued yesterday after noon restraining the board from taking certain action in connection with existing trades, the opening will be postponed until a time to be designated by the directors, pending clarification of certain legal problems being argued before the courts."

"Gridiron Day" In Harrisburg

Newspapermen Will Have "Inning" Tonight With State Officials

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, April 24.—Today was proclaimed "gridiron day" on Capitol Hill by Gov. George H. Earle and newspaper correspondents assigned to the legislature prepared to show state officials and lawmakers how they look from the press rows.

The occasion was the 40th anniversary of the Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents Association, oldest organization of its kind in the country, which was to be marked tonight by the biennial "gridiron dinner" staged by the correspondents. More than 500 persons, including Gov. and Mrs. Earle, Lieut. Gov. and Mrs. Thomas Kennedy, cabinet officials, legislators, other state officials and law-makers, were to attend.

A two-hour state show lampooning the reporters' guests in customary style has been arranged to climax the dinner party. Robert Vale of the Philadelphia Daily News, president of the association, was to preside. The dinner committee was headed by Kermit McFarland, of the Pittsburgh Press.

Dionnes Seek To Have Quintuplets Further Examined

Want Assurance From Doctors Of Own Choosing That "All Is Well"

CALLANDER, Ont., April 24.—Elzire and Olivia Dionne, parents of the quintuplets, clung to their determination today to obtain assurance from physicians of their own choosing that all is well with their five little girls. As a result, they were uncertain about their proposed trip to Ottawa, where Mrs. Dionne is scheduled to address a convention of La Federation Des Femmes Canadiennes Francaises.

The couple had planned to leave their home by automobile for the capital yesterday, but later Papa Dionne said they would not go until two North Bay doctors had examined the quintuplets and pronounced them fit. The Dionnes want Dr. G. W. Smith and Dr. J. I. Joyal to look at the infants.

Dr. A. R. Defoe, physician to the quintuplets, refused to sanction such an examination yesterday after Dr. Allan Brown of Toronto, famous child specialist and Dr. William Dafoe, brother of the Callander physician, had examined the babies and pronounced them in good condition. The babies recently have been suffering from head colds and "spring fever."
